International Semiconductor Industry Conference

Malta Enterprise hosted the first ever international semiconductor industry conference on The Critical Role of the Global Semiconductor Industry at the Westin Dragonara Resort. The 2-day programme has been designed to strengthen the country's semiconductor ecosystem. As the industry looks to the next wave of expansion, Malta's 40-year legacy in manufacturing offers significant advantage and opportunities. The Conference brought together 100+ international delegates and a strong line up of speakers from industry experts, executives, analysts and thought leaders.

Malta Enterprise CEO, George Gregory opened the conference by explaining that "This project falls in line with how Malta Enterprise wants to drive economic development in this country. Government will continue to incentivize companies to increase their capital expenditure. Enhancing our productivity is key to have more sustainable economic development and most importantly to be able to enjoy a better quality of life."

MedTech World Malta

Malta Enterprise supported MedTech Malta 2024, that launched with a blend of innovation, networking, and celebration, drawing industry pioneers, investors, and innovators from over 50 countries to the beautiful Mediterranean Conference Centre in Valletta, Malta.

Malta Enterprise CEO, George Gregory opened with a speech, highlighting Malta as the place to be for MedTech Innovation, encouraging companies to approach Malta Enterprise and make use of all the different schemes on offer. Marion Zammit, Chief FDI Specialist, participated in a panel exploring strategies for scaling healthcare innovation and how Malta Enterprise is continuing to work towards positioning Malta as a MedTech innovation leader.

SuperCharge Tomorrow

Malta Enterprise supported the SuperCharge Tomorrow event, which hosted a game-changing program using a blend of Futureworld's Future Thinking mindset methodology and Amazon's Working Backwards from the Customer process.

CEO George Gregory delivered a speech on the future of business, emphasizing the importance of innovation and resilience to remain competitive in an ever-evolving landscape. Chief Economist Brian Camilleri also shared invaluable insights on how businesses can adapt, evolve, and thrive in the face of change.

Web Summit Lisbon

Malta Enterprise participated in one of the most sought after tech & startup events in the world, the Web Summit. The participation of Malta Enterprise in this Summit was part of our efforts to continue supporting local startups and attract new quality investment to Malta.

Our FDI team - alongside our colleagues from Tech.mt, Malta Digital Innovation Authority and FinanceMalta - have promoted Malta as a start-up destination. This unified front - which also included 16 Malta-based companies on our national stand - is exactly the type of bold representation that Malta needs at such events.

ANIMA General Assembly

During the ANIMA General Assembly and Annual Conference, organised in Marseilles, Malta Enterprise, represented by Nathalie Farrugia, was elected on the Board of Directors of the ANIMA Investment Network. Nathalie Farrugia also contributed to an engaging panel discussion at the ANIMA Annual Meeting, exploring innovative marketing strategies that can strengthen economic ties across the Euro-Mediterranean region.
